VOLUME XXXVI. NUMBER 33.

IRONTON, MO.
THURSDAY, FEB. 5, 1903.

Announcement.

We are authorized to announce O. J. BUFORD as a candidate for Commissioner of Public Schools for Iron county, Mo., subject to the decision of the voters at the ensuing election—April 7th, 1903.

LOCAL BRIEVITIES.

Probate court next week.

We must have better roads.

Winter weather came Wednesday morning.

A week from Saturday is St. Valentine's day.

A broken engine delayed No. 1 two hours last Saturday.

The Macabees will give a dance on the night of the 13th.

A white man and a negro are to be hung at Poplar Bluff Friday.

Many teams have been at work the past week traveling the streets.

Let the county court do something with the old courthouse fence this term.

The physicians say that, so far, this has been a remarkably healthy winter.

Ground hog day was "bright and clear, so we'll have two winters in this year."

There will be an adjourned term of county court in March to settle with the collector.

Robert Hill says that it "is almost impossible for an old soldier to keep off the battle field."

J. N. Lewis has moved his family to the Dr. Farrar building recently vacated by Mr. Curry.

Freight traffic on the railroad is rushing. It is said that the company cannot handle the business.

Hicks says that February is going to be very cold and disagreeable. Let us hope that Hicks doesn't know.

The old Hinchey place, south of town, was sold last week to Louis Relchert. Consideration, $1000.

The screen factory last week shipped two car loads of doors to Salt Lake City. The freight on each car was about $200.

It is said that Mr. Smith, the division superintendent at De Soto, is thinking of making his home at Arcadia in the near future.

Jackson entertains the State Camp of Modern Woodmen in May. They are expecting two thousand visitors on that occasion.

There was about one hundred tons of iron in the old furnace at Pilot Knob which has been recently torn down and sold for old iron.

The Clark Manufacturing Company is now operating three hub factories—the one here, one at Leaserville and one at Annapolis.

The frame of the new residence to be erected by C. W. Phelps in Russellville is completed. It is a three story structure, large and commodious.

Mr. McKee, the gentleman who is going to establish a goat ranch south of town, last Thursday received one hundred Angora goats from Iowa.

MARRIED—At Ironton, Mo., Friday, Jan. 23, 1903, by W. G. Fairchild, J. P., Josiah L. Mathews and Mrs. Magie Savage—both of Iron county, Mo.

It is said that the trainmen on the Iron Mountain railroad will soon go on a strike in an endeavor to get an increase of twenty per cent. in their pay.

We've had more and milder mud in Ironton the past month than we generally have in a whole year. This has saved a hard season on streets and sidewalks.

J. K. Baldwin expects to get in his new residence within a month. When completed Mr. Baldwin will have one of the most modern comfortable homes in the Valley.

Some one in the Valley should try cultivating water cress. In the winter months there is always a good demand for cress in the St. Louis market at a fair price.

County court is in session this week. One of the important matters to be considered will be the petition asking for a bridge across the branch just this side of Pilot Knob.

There will be preaching in the Union church at Pilot Knob next Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock, Feb. 7th. All are invited.

A. D. BURGESS, Pastor.

C. S. Diesel, G. R. Martin and S. R. Durham spent last Thursday in St. Louis on business. Mr. Diesel bought a blacksmithing outfit and will open up a shop at Sabula.—Piedmont Banner.

MARRIED—At the residence of J. B. Hampton, in Ironton, Mo., Friday, January 30, 1903, Cadmus Lashley and Mrs. Cordelia Tinsley, Probate Judge Hampton performing the ceremony.

Mrs. Elisabeth von Roden, relict of the late Chas. von Roden, died at the home of her son in Louisville, Tuesday, January 27th. The remains were interred at the Middlebrook cemetery Thursday.

P. D. Hartman, a former clerk for Carter & Wayland, has been recommended for license to preach by the quarterly conference at Des Arc and appointed to the Lowndes circuit.—Piedmont Banner.

Rev. W. A. Humphrey, of Arcadia, is assisting in the revival meeting now in progress at the Southern Methodist church here. Rev. Nollner returned to his home at Bowling Green Monday.—Farmington News.

Our old friend, Frank Scoville, sends us an illustrated pamphlet, "Corona, the Queen Colony of California." Among the illustrations is Mr. Scoville's residence—a most attractive and comfortable looking home.

"Scully," the famous and successful dry goods drummer, announces to his friends that he is going to quit the road and take life hereafter. He will have the best wishes of a legion of friends wherever he may cast his lot.

It is said that the profits of the Bank at Bismarck last year amounted to exactly $41 and now the town corporations want to get $25 of that sum as license. Several of the directors declare they will move the bank before they will pay the license.

Our old friend, Chas. K. Polk of Marble Creek was in town Monday. Mr. Polk had the misfortune a few weeks ago to be thrown from a horse and was quite badly hurt. We are glad to say, though, that he has about recovered from the effects of the fall.

Subject of the morning discourse in the M. E. church, Feb. 8th, is "Singing Against Childhood." Subject Sunday evening, 7:30 o'clock, is "Lot's Wife." The five minutes' sermon before the morning discourse will be an object lesson, "The Heart of Man." All invited. A. D. BURGESS, Pastor.

The citizens of Ironton were startled by an alarm of fire sounded by the big whistle at the Clark hub factory shortly after six o'clock Tuesday evening. Inquiry developed that the residence occupied by the Russell (colored) family on Knob street was on fire. The flames had gained but little headway and were soon extinguished.

Chas. Willett and Chas. Whitener of Sabula were tried in "Squire Kitchell's" court at Annapolis Monday, charged with Sabbath breaking—discharging fire arms on the first day of the week. The jury brought in a verdict of guilty and Mr. Edgar, attorney for the defendants, appealed the case to the circuit court.

Thursday night of last week burglars entered the residence of Jos. A. Reburn and secured a diamond ring, two bracelets and other jewelry and silverware to the value of about $125. Mr. Reburn thinks that the thieves must have effected an entrance through a door which had not been locked. No clue as to the guilty parties.

Judge Buford says that we need a rock crusher here in Iron county, and that is what will make us good roads. Well, there is one thing certain we must have better roads. And among other things we would advise a closer supervision over the road overseers by the county court. The court must give more attention to the roads in the future.

The editor is in receipt of a card from Mr. Alfred Lawrence Jaquith of Vicksburg, Miss., announcing the marriage of his daughter, Josephine, and Mr. Thos. L. Youmans of Columbus, Ohio, Wednesday, January 28, 1903. Mr. and Mrs. Youmans will be at home Columbus, Ohio, after February 15th. The Register wishes the young couple every happiness.

Commandant Col. Rucker, of Jefferson Barracks, and Lieutenant Martin of the 4th Cavalry, stationed at the Barracks, were here last Thursday looking over the rifle range. They say there will probably be double the usual number of troops here this summer, and possibly the regimental band will be here also. The troops will come early in the springtime.

Conductor Thomas Davenport, who formerly resided at this place, has been compelled to resign his position and go to El Paso for his health. He is suffering with tuberculosis but his many friends here hope he will soon recover and again don his brass buttons and manipulate the pusher. Tom is a favorite on the road and has been in the service for many years.—De Soto Republican.

The dedication of the new church of the Holy Cross, Episcopal, will probably take place two weeks from tomorrow, February 15th. At this service the vested choir will be introduced into the Episcopal service. The choir is composed of thirty voices, boys, young ladies and men. It has been in training for the past month and will beautify the service to a great degree.—Poplar Bluff Citizen.

Miss Ellis Collins and brother delightfully entertained a crowd of young people on the evening of Feb. 2d. A dainty luncheon was served about 11 o'clock, before and after which games such as play pong, carrom, etc., were played. The spirit of fun prevailed until midnight, when the merry crowd left for home, after expressing thanks to the host and hostess for a pleasant evening. A GUEST.

The Register this week prints the announcement of Mr. O. J. Buford as a candidate for Commissioner of Public Schools of Iron county, subject to the will of the voters at the election to be held in April. Mr. Buford is a progressive and enthusiastic young educator. He is well known to the people and the teachers of the county, and there is no question, if he is elected to the position, but that he will efficiently and faithfully discharge the duties of the office.

John T. Baldwin Monday disposed of his interest in the hub factory to his two brothers, T. T. and J. R. Baldwin. In the trade J. T. Baldwin becomes sole owner of the house wherein he lives. T. T. Baldwin becomes sole owner of the house occupied by Mr. Bond and J. R. Baldwin acquires absolute title to the new residence being built by him. These properties were heretofore held by the three brothers jointly. J. T. Baldwin receives $6,000 for his interest in the hub factory.

The school entertainment at the Academy of Music last Friday night was a really entertaining affair. The programme did not contain too many numbers, and the selections were neither long nor tiresome. On the contrary, everything was well done—including the Principal's address, which was exceptionally good and received rapturous applause. The room was filled; not an empty chair was there. The net proceeds—for the benefit of the library—amounted to about $35.

The new grocery store is now opened and ready for business. The proprietor, Mr. Wm. H. Thomas, desires to call the attention of the public to his brand new stock of goods, selected with the greatest care. He hopes, by being able to furnish everything in the grocery line, as well as by vouching the best, to commend his business to all and to secure a patronage that will be mutually beneficial. His display of goods is unusually fine. On the corner lately occupied by the Arcadia Valley Drug Company.

There was "a mad dog scare" in the north end of Ironton Monday. A dog said to belong to Pilot Knob acted very queerly and bit several persons and started to running toward Pilot Knob. Frank Harris, of Iron Mountain, one of the members of the famous Harris-Dooley feud in St. Francois county, saw the dog, jumped in a buggy standing near and started after the animal at full speed. The dog was overtaken between here and Pilot Knob and Harris shot him from the buggy.

Zaden Nossor, who a couple of months ago opened a general merchandise business in the building south of the Register office, has closed out and quit. For some time Zaden peddled goods throughout the country for M. Joseph in the south end of town. He was prosperous and made money and concluded he would like to have a store of his own. He opened up in the old drug store building. But trade was dull, the business did not flourish and Zaden grew heart sick and discouraged, and determined to quit. He will try "the road" again in the near future.

The remains of little Alberta Kendall were conveyed from the residence to the Catholic church on last Sunday afternoon where Father Toomey delivered a most excellent funeral sermon to a large congregation. After church services the body was taken to the Odd Fellows cemetery and laid tenderly at rest amid a host of mourning relatives and friends. Henry and David Kendall and Mrs. Beard, of Ironton, and A. J. Murry, of St. Louis, were in attendance at the funeral. The bereaved parents have the sympathy of the entire community in the death of their only child.—Bismarck Sun.

The County Court Monday declared Mrs. August Johnson, of Annapolis, of unsound mind and directed that she be sent to an asylum. Owing to the fact that Mrs. Johnson will be confined in the course of a couple of months, all of the four asylums in the State have refused to receive her, and arrangements will probably be made to keep her on the poor farm. It occurs to us that this refusal on the part of the asylums to take charge of the unfortunate woman is little less than outrageous. For what are the people of the State of Missouri taxed to support these institutions if they are allowed to arbitrarily refuse to give shelter and home to the unfortunate most needing it?

Last August William Pearson got on a drunk, went over to Arcadia, pulled a gun and had a big time generally. A warrant was issued for his arrest and he skipped out. About ten days ago he returned here, though, and Tuesday night of last week Constable Marshall and Sheriff Polk went to his home in the country and took him in charge. He was charged with disturbing the peace, pleaded guilty and paid fine and costs amounting to about $16. He was immediately re-arrested on the charge of carrying concealed weapons. To this charge he pleaded not guilty and had a trial before a jury in "Squire Fairchild's" court last Saturday. He was found guilty and sent to jail for twenty-five days.

G. C. Remick, Secretary and Treasurer of the Phenique Chemical Company of St. Louis was in this city last week prospecting for a location for a sanitarium. Mr. Remick says that the gentlemen he represents have a new treatment for tuberculosis and cancer and that they have about two hundred thousand dollars that they want to invest in a sanitarium, provided they can find a suitable location. Mr. Remick spent several days here looking at various sites and expressed himself as very well satisfied with the advantages offered by the Valley as a location for the institution. In fact the gentlemen, since leaving here, has let it be understood that there is a strong probability of the sanitarium being located here.

Robert Hill and his son, Bert, and Cad Lashley had a fight in front of the courthouse Tuesday afternoon. It seems that Lashley had called Hill per some name in the presence of the people who went home and told his father. Robert then went to look for Lashley and met him coming out of the courthouse yard. Then the fight started between Robert and Cad whereupon Bert took a hand and hit Lashley in the head with a rock, inflicting rather a bad scalp wound. At this stage of the game Lashley drew a gun—the marshal appeared on the scene and hostilities ceased. All three of the combatants were arraigned before the Mayor that evening charged with disturbing the peace and quiet of the town. They were fined $1 and costs each.

John Housan, of Sedalia, who predicted a large crop last year and the heaviest rainfall of the season to fall July 20, is making more predictions. The heavy rain predicted for July 20 beat him just one day, coming July 19—so that's not bad. Talking for the present year Mr. Housan says: "February will be dry and we are to have an early spring. We will have a little rain the first of March," he remarked. "Then dry weather until the biggest part of April is gone. The farmers will thus be able to put in all the corn they want to. A big crop will be the result, for the plants will be in fine shape for rain of two weeks in July. There will be more rain than last year, and it will be scattered over a greater length of time. In August there will be rain in the last half of the month. Sept. will be dry."—Frontdale Gazette.

The Morning Journal has official information to the effect that the Iron Mountain will establish a train dispatcher's office in this city on February 15. The general arrangements are complete and on the date mentioned

S. M. Loefer, chief dispatcher at De Soto, and who will be transferred to this city, will arrive with ten assistants, five dispatchers and five operators, to open the office for the running of all trains on the main line between Bismarck and Hoxie and the Cairo branch. The Charleston office will be discontinued on that date and the Belmont branch will be handled by the De Soto office. The local offices will be in the Y. M. C. A. building. The importance of Poplar Bluff as a railroad center has long been recognized and this act of the Iron Mountain is a recognition of the advantages and superior facilities to be had here for handling their trains. It portends much for this city. It means further improvements and effectually squelches any further talk about removing the passenger division. It means that Poplar Bluff will continue to be the railroad center of southern Missouri and that our city will continue to grow in population and importance until we shall be a great big sure-enough city. Hats off!—Poplar Bluff Journal.

The wind blew shrill, the morn was cold, The ground was frozen hard And nut and bumper were in the mold On street and in the yard.

She lightly, swiftly tripped along With flying feet and free, Her quickened breath in half-formed song Gave voice to melody!

Fast pressed the ground her twinkling feet, The rats and bumps flew by, Across the lawn into the street Adown the sidewalk high!

Now on the sidewalk, high—so high— There was a frozen hump! It tripped those feet—she fled— And down she came ker-bump!

But no one saw the fall, save one— There's comfort in the thought— And I will never tell, I swan, How harsh the jar it brought!

Let her who runs apace, apace, Beware the ground she treads! For bumps are laid in many a place To bump the wisest heads!

Long, long ago—thirty years almost now—there lived in Ironton a boy by the name of A. B. McFadden. He was a grandson of the late John A. Miller who was once Public Administrator of the county. "A. B.," as we always called him, has long since leaped into fame and fortune in the world of sport and physical culture. The following story of his career is taken from last Sunday's Globe-Democrat: "The fads and theories of physical culture are attracting great attention. Professors of all sorts advertise their wares, guaranteeing health and Sandow-like strength with twenty minutes exercise in the morning. Hardly any are new in principle; some are unique in execution. But of all, the most insistent and clamorous prophet of hygiene is a former St. Louis wrestler, who is making a fortune, it is said, in New York, by his classes and books and even magazines. Now known as Bernard McFadden, it has not been so many years since Barney McFadden was one of the local colony of athletes and most of those with whom he associated are still here. John C. Meyers, George Baptiste and Mike Mooney were three of those McFadden trained with, and all three of them have stories to tell of time when Barney, as he was then called by his intimates, was merely seeking health through the benefit of exercise instead of wealth, as well. McFadden might never have been heard of in physical culture had it not been that he was compelled to take to exercise to keep himself alive. He was told that he had consumption and the doctors predicted that he would die. Then McFadden took up exercise and by dint of hard and regular work in the old Missouri gymnasium he not only fooled those who said that he could not live, but became one of the best athletes in the city, as well. It was as a wrestler that McFadden was best known here and his matches with Luttbeg are still too well known to need much mention. When the wrestling game went to the bad McFadden went on the road for an athletic goods store and the next thing he turned up in New York as an expert on physical culture. He is now the editor of a magazine devoted to the topic in which he is most interested, and is regarded as an expert by the New Yorkers."

PERSONAL.

John M. Thomas is home from Oran. L. C. Chambers was in Ironton last week.

W. Curry and family have moved to Blackwell.

Paul Hinchey was here from De Soto last week.

Godfrey O'Neal was here from Irondale Sunday.

H. Kreisohmar is here from St. Louis this week.

J. B. Holloman was in town from Hogan Tuesday.

Mrs. D. A. Pilley returned from St. Louis Tuesday.

Mrs. Benson of Annapolis was in Ironton Monday.

J. T. Dobbins of Leaserville was in Ironton this week.

R. L. Ward of Greenville was in Ironton Saturday.

Paul Patton has returned from a visit to Cape Girardeau.

Bond Fleming of St. Joseph, Mo., is the guest of his uncle, A. F. Bond.

Gentry Ferguson, of Middlebrook, was a caller at this office Wednesday.

D. L. Rivers of Bismarck was here last week as attorney for A. F. Vance.

H. Davis and family are expected home from Galveston, Texas, this week.

James Garrett is working as agent for the St. L. M. & Southeastern at Harvill, Mo.

John E. Tolleson, who is now located at Charleston, Mo., was a visitor to Ironton Sunday.

Roy Steel left Monday for Columbia, Mo., where he will attend school the remainder of the year.

C. D. Alexander, of De Soto, who recently bought the Begley place, east of town, has moved here with his family.

Mrs. Ross and daughter of Jackson, Mo., long time ago residents of Pilot Knob, were here last Thursday to attend the funeral of Mrs. von Roden.

W. H. Byers went to St. Louis taking with him his daughter, Mrs. Mamie Freeman, who has been in poor health for some time. Mrs. Freeman is now in St. Luke's hospital.

All winter millinery at and below cost at Mrs. Lula Gilling Woodside's.

Burgundy Items.

As it has been some time since we read any news from this point, we will try and send a few items.

M. E. Henderson is on the sick list. Revs. Asher and Chester preached last Saturday night and Sunday at our school house. Quite a large congregation was present.

Dan Faulkner, of Flat River, was seen on his way to Neal's Creek to see his sick daughter, who has been very ill for the past three weeks.

J. W. Stricklin and family visited W. H. Stricklin last week. Mrs. J. W. Stricklin is very ill at this writing.

Miss Edith Westerman, of Edge Hill, visited friends and relatives at Burgundy last week.

Nelson Stricklin lost one of his horses last week. Quite a number of horses have died in the surrounding community this winter. The supposition is that there is a fatal horse disease now circulating.

Miss Vada Volner visited friends and relatives near Burgundy last Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. J. W. Stricklin received a letter last week from her sister in Arkansas telling her of the death of her father, Mr. Baxter. Mrs. S. has our sympathy.

Joseph Thompson has a very sick child. But as it is under the care of Dr. Miner I suppose it will be made well again soon.

Annie Melvin and Effie Stuart were the guests of H. R. Henderson and family last Sunday.

Jas. Stricklin, Jr., has his mill up and in working order and is now sawing lumber and grinding corn.

Thomas McMahon, accompanied by his cousin, Wm. Palmer, who has just returned from Montana, made a business trip to Flat River last week.

Henry Faulkner and Miss Carrie Murphy were united in holy bands of wedlock a short time ago.

The expected law suit between Geo. Faulkner and James Todd was settled by a compromise.

Mrs. Kate Hall, accompanied by her two nieces, Misses Annie and Minnie Thompson, visited Amanda Henderson. Rev. Morehead failed to fill his appointments at Red Point and Burgundy.

Our school closed last Saturday night, Jan. 24th, with one of the grandest entertainments ever given by a school in western Iron county. Prof. Wm. Henderson has been with us for the past two years, and we can recommend him as being a wide awake teacher. He has taught two of the best schools at Burgundy that has ever been taught prior to that time. He faithfully executed the laws of the school from the beginning up to the last hour. After the entertainment closed he walked to the front of the stage and made his final address. His pupils shed many tears at the thought of having to see him close the school. He is not only successful as a teacher but his kind, manly ways win for him the love of the scholars. This we know has a great deal to do with the school. After the final address Prof. H. was presented with a beautiful cake, which had been prepared by the following named pupils: Ollie and Bessie Henderson, Laura and Lettie Shy, Effie R. and Allie Stricklin, Effie C. and Iola Stricklin. The girls were highly congratulated by their teacher and audience. We are sorry we can't have Prof. Henderson for our teacher next summer. He tells us that he will start for the west in a short time to enter the United States civil service work. We hope you will have success. W. G. Ollie Stricklin received the reward at school last Saturday for having received the largest number of head marks. The music at the entertainment was given by James Miner, John Wilkins and Wm. Hutchins, violinists, assisted by Fannie B. Richard and Wm. Nelson with guitars.

If we are fortunate enough to see this in print we will come again.

BLUE BIRD.

Goodland Items.

The weather is remarkably warm for February. The mercury standing at 68 on Feb. 1st.

A great many of our farmers have not yet gathered in all of their corn.

F. M. Adams has his stock scales in position for weighing.

Nelson Stricklin had the misfortune to lose his fine grey horse.

John Mayfield traded horses with Geo. Bolick of Goodwater.

S. L. Brooks sold his young mare for $80.

Old Bruce, Dr. Adams' riding horse, helped himself to several bushels of chopped feed and consequently is not able to travel.

G. G. Adams and family spent two days last week with W. E. Westerman of Edge Hill.

J. F. Brooks, Thomas Chapman and G. W. McMullens are at work in St. Louis.

A wedding party consisting of W. I. Bays and bride, Mrs. Johnson and daughter, Myrtle, Miss Moore, Miss Johnson and brother, took dinner with Dr. Adams on their way from Reynolds county to Tolu, where the young couple will make their home. Mrs. Bays is a daughter of Monroe Johnson of Monterey, Reynolds county.

The year-old babe of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Thompson died last week of whooping cough and fever combined.

How sorry we were to learn of the misfortune which has overtaken our friend Prof. Vance. The biggest rascals are not always to be found behind prison bars. "Strange there should such a difference be 'twixt twiddle-dum and twiddle-dee."

We saw a letter written by our old friend and teacher, Dr. McKenzie, in which he thus speaks of old Dr. Adams: "I often wonder if when my career as practitioner of medicine is over, I will be loved and revered as he is. He is spoken of as 'good old Dr. Adams' and 'you don't know how much we miss him. How much we appreciate his sterling worth and self-sacrifice; and when they tell me how they love him I am persuaded they are now beginning to understand."

PAULINE.

Mrs. Lula Gilling Woodside wishes to announce to her friends and the public generally that she is closing out her stock of winter millinery to make room for spring and summer goods. Everything will be sold at cost and below cost. Now is the time to secure rare bargains in winter millinery.

Don't forget to visit Mrs. Gross and see the new spring samples of the Buckley Shirt Waist Company.

In Memoriam.

Died—In Vulcan, Mo., on January 25, 1903, Stella Lewis, the little daughter of Edward and Katie Lewis, aged 10 months and 15 days. She was sick only one week. She was just learning to talk, and just before she passed away she called "papa."

The little crib is empty, And the bright, sweet face Never more shall greet us In its accustomed place.

Little Stella has gone away, But we know she is at rest, And that some day we shall meet her In the land of the blest.

She looked like a lily In her little casket white; She is now with the angels In the land where all is bright.

She's gone in her beauty In silence to rest. Her parents will miss her, But God knoweth best.

A FRIEND.
